DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the German reference (29611382).

The German reference teaches a luggage box (1) having securing elements or locks (10,12) on the bottom that engage securing elements (9) on receiving tracks (5) that are recessed within the cargo floor (6) of a vehicle. See especially figure 1. There is an actuation means (lock handle) outside of the luggage box.

With respect to claim 5, the securing elements (10,12) are rotated via a transfer mechanism (11, 13) attached to the rotating lock handle. See especially the embodiment of figures 4-5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3727

4. Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sidler (US 4,577,563).

Sidler teaches a container (1) having a securing element (37) that is movable between a retracted position with the container and to a deployed position exterior of the container to engage a receiving track (11) as shown in figure 3. The securing element is moved by actuation means (33). A key is necessary to lock and unlock the container to the vehicle. The opposite side of the container has a lip (25) that fits under a lip 29 on the receiving track (11). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the securing element on both sides of the container (instead of the interfitting lips on one side) to provide a more secure locking arrangement of the container to the vehicle as well as making the user actuate two locks (one on each side) to remove the container.

Alternatively, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the securing element (37) and actuation means (33) on both sides of the container, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 3727

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
